Maysvillians Celebrate the Ending of the Great Tragedy

Ever Since 4 O'clock This Morning People Have Been Demonstrating Over the Fall of the Monstrous Robber and Murderer, the Kaiser

Mayor Russell's Proclamation Promptly Obeyed and All Business Practically Ceased for the Day---General Good Time Participated in By Everybody

PARIS, NOVEMBER 11—GERMANY HAS SIGNED THE ARMISTICE TERMS PRESENTED BY THE ALLIES, IT WAS OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED HERE TODAY. THE TERMS STRIP GERMANY OF ALL POWER TO RENEW WARFARE. THE ARMISTICE IS PRACTICALLY UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER.

Never before in the history of Maysville has anything happened that has caused such universal rejoicing as the above brief message received this morning.

It seemed that all had been waiting for it, and had raked and scraped the town over to get out those instruments that would produce the most noise and it is not for us to say they were successful—everybody in town knows they were.

From the festive horn and tin can to the big anvil and Kinney Mac the noise producing was well handled, and from 4 o'clock until, we guess, old man exhaustion takes a hand the fun will continue fast and furious.

PEACE!

The greatest enterprise, the greatest crusade in America's history, has ended in victory, complete and overwhelming.

Mayor Russell this morning proclaimed this day a holiday, and immediately it met with a universal response.

Smitty's Band was ordered from Cincinnati, but failed to arrive, but a local drum corps was substituted. Mr. W. D. Cochran was made Grand Marshal and the parade moved without further delay from the Courthouse.

And The Ledger doesn't blame them. Keep it up, men, women and children, for certainly we have something to rejoice over.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS ARMISTICE

WASHINGTON, November 11—President Wilson issued a formal proclamation at 10 o'clock this morning announcing that the armistice with Germany had been signed and that he would read the terms of the armistice with Germany before a joint session of Congress today. Arrangements were made for a joint session at 1 o'clock this afternoon. The proclamation follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen: The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished. It will now be our fortunate duty to assist by example, by sober friendly council and by material aid in the establishment of just democracy throughout the world."

ALL DRAFT CALLS ARE CANCELLED

President Wilson today ordered Provost Marshal General Crowder to cancel all outstanding draft calls. This stops the movement during the next five days of 252,000 men and sets aside all the calls for November.

FRONTIERS GUARDED TO PREVENT ESCAPE OF HUN MILLIONAIRES

COPENHAGEN, November 10—Another attempt on the life of Prince Henry of Prussia has been made at Flensburg, where he was in seclusion in a villa. The result of the attempt is not known, but it is believed that he escaped.

According to a frontier message, Princess Heinrich, wife of the grandson of Ludwig III, of Bavaria, was wounded in the arm when fired upon as she was fleeing from Munich. She and her husband are now hiding in southern Bavaria with the Princess Adelphi, wife of Prince Adelbert, Emperor William's third son.

The Danish frontier is being strongly guarded by the German soldiers' council. This is being done, it is stated, in order to prevent the escape of rich people, generals and other high officers.

All national cockades and the eagle on the helmets of soldiers have been removed, being replaced by a red band.

The wearing of the iron cross has been strictly prohibited.

Berlin was occupied by forces of the soldiers' and workmen's councils on Saturday afternoon, according to a Wolf bureau report received here.

The railway stations in the entire industrial districts of Germany from Dortmund to Duisburg have been occupied by soldiers' councils, according to a dispatch from Essen. There were no disorders.

German guard vessels in the mine fields off the great belt and little belt have left their stations. The crews forced the officers to leave the vessels and then hoisted the red flag.

Six more cruisers flying the red flag arrived at Hamburg last night, says a Wolf News Agency dispatch received here. The city of Hamburg is generally quiet.

It is stated that Huga Haase, Socialist leader in the Reichstag, has the situation in Hamburg in hand.

Emperor William's abdication was received on Saturday afternoon at Berlin with general rejoicing which was tempered by the fear that it had come too late.

Friedrich Ebert, the Socialist leader, has been appointed imperial chancellor. He has issued a proclamation saying that he plans to form a people's government which will endeavor to bring about a speedy peace.

SUICIDE IN FLEMING COUNTY

Mrs. Rebecca Jefferson, aged 53, committed suicide at the home of Mrs. James, near Goddard, Fleming county. She had been despondent for some time and left the house and went to a nearby barn, where she got a piece of rope and tied one end to a rafter, fastening the other end around her neck and jumped off her foothold. The jerk broke the rope and also broke her neck, her body being found some time afterwards on the floor. She was married to Fred Jefferson of near Cranstown, Rowan county, but had been separated for the past ten years. Her remains were buried near Goddard.

RED CROSS ROOM OPEN TUESDAY

We have been requested by Miss Grace Bierbower, the head of the Red Cross work for Mason county to announce that the work which was suspended some four weeks ago, will be resumed on tomorrow, Tuesday, and it is desired that the ladies turn out in goodly number to finish the work allotted to this chapter. The ladies are expected to meet at the rooms on the regular working days after this date.

KAISER, STRIPPED OF ALL POWER FLEES TO SAFETY IN HOLLAND

The German people, for a generation the obedient and submissive servants of their war lord, for more than four years his pliant instruments in ravaging the world, have spoken a new word, and the old Germany is gone. From the confused, sometimes conflicting and often delayed advices from Germany in the last two days, it has now become apparent that William, emperor and king, has been stripped of his power. He is now plain William Hohenzollern, a fugitive in Holland. With his fall topples into ruin William's mad design to rule the world.

LITTLE KNOWN OF SITUATION

Little is known of the situation today in Germany for that country is in the first days of its new adventure. It is not clear whether this old regime has been permanently dislodged or whether the new authorities, with the unscrupulous adroitness which has long marked German politics, are merely sacrificing the chief figurehead or kaiserism in the hope of obtaining and easier peace. It appears probable that no one in Germany knows, and that it is still to be determined which of the contending elements will gain the upper hand.

Revolution is spreading rapidly, and from the fact that a Socialist is now chancellor it may be gathered that the object of the revolution is not merely the quick ending of the war but the complete severance of the political ties which still bind the nation with its past.

PROBLEM HAS CHANGED

For the Allies the problem has changed. The countries which fought Germany and her vassals for more than four years have emerged from it completely triumphant, but within the borders of the countries which menaced the peace of the whole world stalks revolt, famine and anarchy. The world's next task may be to restore order in the desolated Central Empires. It may be the lot of the forces who have successfully contested Germany's greed for power to save her from the fate she imposed on Russia. Likewise help will have to be given Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, whose ruin Germany wrought.

Th German empire was the last of the great autocracies whose all marks the real significance of the war. In Russia, Austria-Hungary, and finally in Germany, irresponsible power gave way before the irresistible forces of democracy. Germany, holding on to the last, kept up the hopeless struggle until Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's prophetic words early in the war came true.

MARSHAL FOCH'S ORDER ENDING HOSTILITIES

London, November 11—Marshal Foch the Allied generalissimo, has issued the following order: "To the Commander-in-Chief: Hostilities will cease on the whole front as from November 11 at 11 o'clock a. m. (French time). The Allied troops will not until further orders go beyond the line reached on that date and at that hour."

TERM 3 SAYS "YES"

The attitude of the Toy Manufacturers of the United States, who are holding a conference in New York, toward the shipment of 4,000 cases of German toys recently arrived at that port is indicative of the public feeling against German importations in general. Some of the dealers to whom the shipment is consigned have signified their intention not to accept the toys. The conference has adopted resolutions "with the hope that all loyal Americans will emulate the splendid example of those dealers and steadfastly refuse to accept, distribute, or use toys made by a nation of fiends."

Yet the German trade with this country in toys and other products is precisely what the President wishes to perpetuate. That is the official interpretation placed on his Peace Term No. 3, in which he favors the elimination of all economic barriers among nations. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, Democratic Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has declared the President's language to mean that if Term No. 3 becomes a part of the treaty of peace "it would be then improper for the United States to adopt a tariff discriminating between nations." In other words German toys would have to come into this country on precisely the same terms as similar importations from France or England, and other products would receive the same generous treatment.

The American people see a difference between toys made by a nation whose soldiers find pleasure in cutting off the hands of children and impaling babies on their bayonets, and those manufactured by the peasants of a country that has endured the trials and sacrifices of France. As indicated by the action of the association of toy manufacturers in New York the people will demand that the German products be kept from their markets, in spite of the attempt of the President to bring them in on an equal footing with the manufacturers of other countries. If Mr. Wilson wishes to avoid an overwhelming storm of disapproval he will do well to put the spotlight on all further mention of Term No. 3.

TOO GOOD FOR GOVERNMENT

It will be remembered that not many months ago the Shipping Board had in charge of its design of wooden ships one Mr. Ferris, a man of large experience and ability in his profession. Difficulties arose between Mr. Ferris and the officials of the Board with the result that he was forced to sever his connection with the Government. But some of his ships were built and placed in service. The Coyote, one of the first of the Ferris type ships has recently completed a voyage to a North Atlantic island with a cargo of coal weighing 3,032 tons. During the trip she passed unscathed through the worst hurricane that has visited those waters since 1899. The Coyote bears several distinctions. She is the first wooden ship to be turned out at an Atlantic yard, the first to make a voyage with cargo, and the deepest draft vessel ever taken into the harbor of the port she visited. Naturally Mr. Ferris, her designer, must feel a certain amount of satisfaction that his ideas have been so thoroughly proven. Those responsible for his separation from the service would have done well had they ignored the comparatively inconsequential causes that brought about that action, and retained in the personnel of the Shipping Board an expert of such demonstrated ability.

WHAT WOMEN DID TO HELP WIN THE WAR

Woman Artist Worked in Harvest Fields in Indiana and Made a Success of It.

Out in Indiana a portrait painter who belongs equally to America and Europe, worked as a farmerette during the past season, regardless alike of cold rain or midsummer heat. She went into the harvest fields before sun-up to help gather the grain, and finished her labors by helping the farmer's wife wash the dishes.

It is a long step in industry from painting princesses, celebrities and millionaires to shocking oats, but Mrs. Mira Edgerly, artist, traveler, and citizen of the world, has proved that she can do the one as well as the other. She says, moreover, that she found one task quite as interesting as the other. She is widely known in Washington, which has just learned of her experiences.

Mrs. Edgerly became a farmerette quite by accident. She did not belong to a unit of the Woman's Land Army. She made her experiment alone. It just happened, she says, for she had a spare month not provided for in her plans. She had gone to Chicago, after several weeks passed in Washington, D. C., to execute an important commission. War work called the man to sit for his portrait out of the city, so Mrs. Edgerly sought a place in the country where she could really rest. Someone directed her to La Porte and thence she ventured to Westville, where she found board on a farm.

In Washington, the artist had been engaged for several months in making character studies of men and women whose names are known in the great world. An exhibition of portraits marked, "Edgerly," had attracted much attention and she had more requests for sittings than she could grant, for her fame had preceded her.

SHE COULD NOT STAND OR WORK

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health and Stopped Her Pains.

Portland, Ind.—"I had a displacement and suffered so badly from it that at times I could not be on my feet at all. I was all run down and so weak I could not do my housework, was nervous and could not lie down at night. I took treatments from a physician but they did not help me. My Aunt recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I tried it and now I am strong and well again and do my own work and I give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the credit."

Mrs. JOSEPHINE KIMBLE, 335 West Race St., Portland, Ind.

Thousands of American women give this famous root and herb remedy the credit for health restored as did Mrs. Kimble.

For helpful suggestions in regard to such ailments women are asked to write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

She had painted the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Princess Dolgorouki, Princess Henry of Prussia, the Duchess of Hamilton, and many other titled persons too numerous to count. She had journeyed to Indiana to paint a viceroys and had circled the globe, coming back to New York to execute commissions from Mrs. Seward Webb, Mrs. James A. Burden, and Mrs. Willard Straight. Her last finished pictures had been portraits of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leither, Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. McLean, and little Vincent McLean, known far and wide as the wealthiest child in the world.

From the mansions of the millionaires, where she had been working with brush and colors, Mrs. Edgerly stepped into a neat, homelike western farmhouse, one morning in midsummer. She caused something of a sensation and aroused more or less suspicion by bringing with her many trunks filled with canvases, paints, and souvenirs of foreign travel, as well as queer garments that later were to cause a sensation in Westville. The odd garments were English riding breeches, which were to be worn in the most extraordinary pastime ever indulged in by their owner.

A day's stay on the farm revealed shortage. The oats were ready for harvesting and it was impossible to hire any extra "help." Five or six families owned a threshing and other machinery in common and they had revived the old system of cooperation that results in what used to be called "bees," all concentrating on a field until the grain had been safely garnered.

For years Mrs. Edgerly had been interested in studying labor problems. She had theories about one's relation to the land and the situation which confronted her seemed to make a distinct appeal.

She decided to volunteer as a "hand." The farmer to whom she made the offer of assistance accepted her on probation, for he was becoming accustomed to the necessity that made his wife and daughters valuable aids in the lighter forms of field labor, and the artist who is tall, straight, and athletic, appeared to be promised as a helper.

It was when the new "hand" reported for work in the field that her attire caused a sensation. Mrs. Edgerly wore her riding breeches, her riding boots and a sleeveless jacket. The members of the five families who had assembled for the "bee" looked askance at the costume, for the regular farmerette bloomers had not been introduced into that part of the State. The artist was assigned to work with a girl school teacher, a daughter of one of the farmers. She describes her experience with enthusiasm.

"I was told to take up two bundles of oats, carrying one under each arm with the heads pointed in front of me and to stack them carefully, six in a row, then one on each end, and an extra one on top to cover them and shed the rain," she said, when she returned to Washington for a few days. "By the time I had finished two shocks I was warm and tired. The worst of it was that I did not make good with the farmer at first, for my stacks were not precise and neat. I had to do one over and by noon I was ready to stop, but I dared not be a quitter. After a few days, however, I managed to become more or less hardened, but I want to testify that farm work is not child's play. As a tonic, it is truly wonderful and I confess that my appetite would have alarmed any one interested in food conservation. "Every day we worked on a different farm and ate at a different farmhouse and I had the privilege of getting very well acquainted with the people, who are a fine lot of Americans. I liked them so well that I am to entertain all my comrades—about twenty-five of them—at the county fair in September.

"It was a great experience that sent me away from Indiana with a realization of what the patriotism of the farmers mean in the war. All are doing the utmost possible to increase the food supply and I felt it a privilege to work with them. You see, I am an Anglo-American, or perhaps I should say, an American-Anglo, for I was born in California and reared in England, where they always think me decidedly American.

"Since I have been working here in the United States I have come into contact with all classes of men and women, but I find always among those who live the simpler lives and labor hard for their bread and butter the sort of Americanism that will sustain the nation through any crisis.

"I want to pay tribute to what the Department of Labor is doing in the war. Its many wise and practical provisions for meeting the problems arising from war conditions promise much for the reconstruction period."

CAVE-IN BRINGS DISCOVERY OF RICH ORE CHUTE OF GOLD

Oroville, Cal. — A cave-in in the shaft of the Surcuse mine has uncovered a rich chute of ore that will probably result in greatly enlarging the scope of operations upon the property.

The mine is the property of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines of Nevada. Thus far operations have been confined to a thorough prospect. This prospect was found satisfactory, and the mine was purchased. Until gold mining conditions grow better, however, the property was ordered closed.

A short time ago a portion of the wall gave way. After the cave had been cleaned up the area was sampled and the report of the assayists showed that a second ledge even richer than the first had been found. It is now considered possible that, despite the unfavorable conditions for gold mining, the property may be worked.

TERRIBLY SWOLLEN

Suffering Described As Torture Relieved by Black-Draught.

Rossville, Ga.—Mrs. Kate Lee Able, of this place, writes: "My husband is an engineer, and once while lifting, he injured himself with a piece of heavy machinery, across the abdomen. He was so sore he could not bear to press on himself at all, on chest or abdomen. He weighed 165 lbs., and fell off until he weighed 110 lbs., in two weeks.

He became constipated and it looked like he would die. We had three different doctors, yet with all their medicine, his bowels failed to act. He would turn up a ten-cent bottle of castor oil, and drink it two or three days in succession. He did this yet without result. We became desperate, he suffered so. He was swollen terribly. He told me his suffering could only be described as torture.

I sent and bought Theodor's Black-Draught. I made him take a big dose, and when it began to act he fainted, he was in such misery, but he got relief and began to mend at once. He got well, and we both feel he owes his life to Theodor's Black-Draught."

Theodor's Black-Draught will help you to keep fit, ready for the day's work. Try it! NC-131

HORSE GLU ANOTHER KIND; HOW TO TREAT THE DISEASE

Equine Ailment Resembles Human Affliction In Several Important Particulars — Now Under Good Control, But Federal Authorities Advise Precaution to Prevent Outbreak.

Although the serious epidemic of influenza now affecting the human family has no relation to the disease of the same name which affects horses, specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture point out a resemblance of symptoms and course of the disease in each instance.

According to the department, influenza among horses at the present time is under better control in all sections of the country than ever before. This results almost entirely from the work of the Federal authorities in combating the pest.

Equine influenza is a common disease in the large cities of the country, affecting horses which pass through infected stables of dealers. Only, however, under certain influences not understood and when large numbers of horses in commercial channels are exposed to contagion, does it assume an enzootic or epidemic form. Unlike certain other infectious diseases, one attack of influenza does not grant a lasting immunity. However, previous attack or attacks or other unassignable reasons apparently make old horses less susceptible than young ones.

History indicates that this disease has been recognized in various outbreaks for several hundred years past. Even before the Christian Era, a severe epizootic believed to be influenza, is recorded as having occurred in Sicily, and again in A. D. 1301 it spread over a considerable period of Italy, causing great loss among the war horses of Rome. In 1648 the disease affected Germany and spread to other parts of Europe, and in 1711 it followed the tracks of the great armies all over Europe, causing immense losses among the horses. Other extensive outbreaks obtained at intervals from 1813 to 1883, one of which was that of 1870-73, in connection with the Franco-Prussian War. The first recorded appearance of equine influenza in North America was in 1766. Probably the most severe outbreak, however, was that of 1870-72, when it spread over the entire country from Canada, south to Ohio, and then eastward to the Atlantic coast and westward to California, although the severity of the outbreak of 1900-01 should not be overlooked. In these epizootics, there was a heavy loss of horses, and being prior to introduction of the motor truck in city commerce, business in the great commercial centers of the country was seriously inconvenienced, and in some cases practically suspended for lack of available horses.

Like the influenza epidemics in the human family, epizootics of equine influenza are difficult to control. The true primary cause of the disease has not been established, though it is generally believed to be due to a specific germ, too small to be detected under the highest power microscope. It certainly has the characteristic of extreme diffusibility, leading to spread of disease over a large area of the country in a few days, the outbreak running its course despite all efforts to prevent it, and the infection gradually subsiding without assignable cause.

The symptoms are those of fever, in some cases, preceded by a chill. There is great prostration and depression of muscular force; the visible mucous membranes, especially those of the eye, become a deep saffron, ochre, or violent red color, from which fact the term "pink-eye" has been given to the disease. There is a great diminution or total loss of appetite and a rapid loss of flesh, which frequently reaches 30 to 75 pounds for each 24 hours. In uncomplicated cases, the fever abates after 6 to 10 days, and there is a general restoration to health. The death rate is relatively low (during the epidemic of 1872 varying from 2 to 7 per cent), the higher rate occurring among city horses. The complications are many and sometimes serious. Among such are those of the intestines and lungs. Pneumonia, one of the frequent complications, is always serious, as it affects the animal when reduced in strength and resisting power.

THE QUALITY OF THE PRESENT CORN CROP

Is Much Superior To That of Last Year, Report Says — October Weather Conditions Responsible For Big Increase In Federal Estimate.

Washington, November 9.—October weather conditions resulted in an increase of 30,000,000 bushels in the country's crop of corn. The Department of Agriculture's November crop report today placed the preliminary estimate of production at 2,749,198,000 bushels. While the crop is smaller in size than last year's, its food value is materially greater because the quality this year is more than 10 points higher.

With a wheat crop of about 919,000,000 bushels, which is some 100,000,000 bushels more than the average of the last five years, and large crops of rye, buckwheat, rice, beans, potatoes, onions and cabbage, the country's food crops this year have been bountiful.

The crop of tobacco is a record one by 70,000,000 pounds, being 1,266,686,000 pounds this year.

A summary of the report by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, says:

"The almost ideal weather of October in the main agricultural areas of the country has resulted in an increase of the indicated corn crop by about 30,000,000 bushels, with a quality of 85.6 compared with 75.2 last year and 82.8 average. The results in the Southwest and the far West are not up to expectations. While the absolute number of bushels is only 87 per cent. of that of last year, the food value, because of the higher quality, is a much larger proportion. The absolute production is only a fraction of 1 per cent. below the five-year average. The stock of last year's corn remaining on farms is more than three times the amount of old corn on hand a year ago, and in excess of the usual.

"Buckwheat was damaged by early frost lowering the good earlier prospects of yield by about 6 per cent, but leaving this crop still 5 per cent. in excess of last year and 20 per cent. above the average.

"Potato yields now reported confirm the earlier estimates. The summer drought resulted in small size and reduced yields in the main producing areas. The crop now estimated is 11 per cent. below the enormous crop of last year, but 8 per cent. above the five-year average, being in size the fourth crop of record.

"Sweet potato production exceeds by a slight margin even last year's big crop, and is about 40 per cent. above the five-year average.

"Tobacco, with a large acreage, has a yield per acre materially above average and a total production of 70,000,000 pounds above last year, which furnished the largest previous crop of record.

"The rice crop is about 15 per cent. greater than last year, almost 20 per cent. more, cabbage 18 per cent. more and the commercial crop of apples 11 per cent. more.

"Sugar beets are almost 10 per cent. more and cane for sugar about 25 per cent. more. Sorghum sirup, relatively insignificant, is 13 per cent. less. Kafir corn is 20 per cent. less, peanuts 6 per cent. less."

Preliminary estimates of production follow:

Buckwheat 18,370,000 bushels, potatoes 390,101,000, sweet potatoes 88,114,000, tobacco 1,266,686,000 pounds, flaxseed 14,646,000 bushels, pears 10,342,000, apples 197,360,000 sugar beets 6,549,000 tons, kafir 61,182,000 bushels, cranberries 374,000 barrels, onions 13,433,000 bushels, cabbage 565,000 tons, sorghum sirup 29,575,000 gallons, clover seed 1,248,000 bushels, peanuts 52,617,000 bushels.

FARM BUREAU BACK NATION'S WAR PROGRAM

That the final responsibility for meeting the food needs of the Nation and the world rests upon the individual farmers in every community is the basis of a farm bureau membership campaign planned for the week of November 25 by farm-bureau committees in New York State. Quotas of membership will be assigned to every county, and the quota will be apportioned to the communities. The campaign is not for the adding of mere names to the membership roll, but for the enlisting of farmers who believe in a sound agricultural war program will support it.

DOUBT DISAPPEARS

No One in Maysville Who Has a Bad Back Should Ignore This Double Proof.

Does your back ever ache? Have you suspected your kidneys? Backache is sometimes kidney ache. With it may come dizzy spells, Sleepless nights, tired, dull days, Distressing urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands.

Are recommended here at home. You have read Maysville proof. Read now the Maysville sequel.

Renewed testimony, tested by time. Mrs. John Burns, West Second Street, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE
On November 15, 1916, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills today, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I took them."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Burns had—the remedy backed by home testimony 40 cents at all stores. COUNTY AGENT KIRK IS NOW IN FULL CHARGE

Took Hold of This Branch of the Work in Mason County The First of This Month and Is Going at a Lively Gait.

Very quietly and unostentatiously, County Agricultural Agent, George Kirk, assumed the duties of his office on the first of November.

While he has been in this city since the middle of October, he did not assume charge of the office until November 1st.

Mr. Kirk was recommended to the Fiscal Court by Mr. Morgan, Director of Agents for the State, who is employed by the State Experimental Station. Mr. Morgan recommended that the Fiscal Court appoint a representative in each precinct together with three representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, to constitute a county board that would meet once each month and advise with the County Agent, relative to the work being done. This the Fiscal Court did and Mr. Morgan sent Mr. Kirk during October, at the expense of the Experimental Station so the Board could interview him and ascertain whether he was the proper man for Mason county. From the start Mr. Kirk made a most favorable impression with the Board and they recommended his retention by the Fiscal Court, which was done.

We have, on numerous occasions, heard people inquire as to the duties of a County Agricultural Agent, and we doubt if all the farmers of Mason county really know what the United States, State of Kentucky and Fiscal Court of Mason county are trying to do for them through the employment of the County Agricultural Agent.

First of all, let me state Mr. Kirk is no "Paper Farmer," which term is applied to men who can tell you how to do a thing (from the literature they have read) but have never had practical experience on the farm. Mr. Kirk's father was formerly a native of Mason county and Mr. Kirk was raised on the farm, experiencing all the enjoyments and hardships of farm life. Several years ago he completed his agricultural course in the University and then began applying the knowledge he has gained at the University. He has had a few years experience managing his own farm since leaving the University, and has had ample opportunity to learn that there is a practical side to farming and not all theory. So many students are great on experiments but they often forget that the farmer's biggest job is to earn a living first, and that he can only adopt policies that have passed the experimental stage.

The County Agricultural Agent serves as an interpreter for the Govern-

BOILER EXPLODES ON C. & O. ENGINE

TRAIN WAS UNDER WAY WHEN THE ACCIDENT OCCURRED—THREE MEN INJURED, ONE FATALLY.

Late Saturday afternoon when engine No. 927 on the C. & O., drawing a heavy train, was passing Ivor, West of Corntown, the boiler exploded and three men in the engine were badly injured, one fatally. Engineer Raymond Peake of Covington, was at the throttle, and he is considered one of the best on the road; Fireman J. T. Crowe, of Covington, was in the act of shoveling some coal into the stoker and the firebox door was blown off, striking him, fracturing his shoulder and head and knocking him off the engine, he dying this morning; and Brakeman William Dyer also of Covington, who was riding in the engine, and who was badly scalded about the face and body. Engineer Peake being scalded about the hands and arms.

The train was running about twenty miles an hour when the accident occurred, and the fact that the engine was working off all the steam she was making, thus partially relieving the pressure on the boiler, makes it a rare accident. There is nothing to show as to what caused the boiler to let go, and it can only be attributed to a defective sheet or rivet somewhere on the part that gave way.

The three injured men were rushed to Speers Hospital at Dayton, where their injuries were attended to.

The Federal authorities are investigating the cause of the accident, a guard having been placed on the disabled engine to prevent anyone tampering with it.

ment and State, giving to the farmer the results of tests and experiments they expect him to demonstrate to the farmer how to adopt these recommendations.

He is expected to organize Boys' Pig and Huffer Clubs, Girls' Chicken Clubs, Boys' and Girls' Corn Clubs and a number of like organizations to help the boy or girl learn more of Agriculture and Stock, as well as to create in them the desire to remain on the farm and raise large and better crops and more valuable stock.

He is also expected to advise with the farmers of the entire county, relative to increased production of food stuffs and the raising of better stock, thereby increasing the value of the farm and enriching the farmer. Mason county should raise more sheep and we hope that he will be able to interest the County Judge to the extent that he will enforce the dog law to the letter, so that the farmers will be encouraged to raise sheep.

Mason county could raise more fruit. We should have a number of orchards and we understand there is only one large orchard in the whole county. Get in touch with Mr. Kirk, he can tell you what tree to plant, where to buy them and how to care for them. We are developing a wonderful creamery business and it has by no means reached its limit. Every month shows a marked increase in butter fat that is sold into this city or shipped to Cincinnati from here. We hope that some of our prominent men like Mr. Glascock will at some time in the near future take it upon themselves and bring to this county several carloads of fine cattle and sell them out to the farmers.

Two or three carloads of cattle could be bought at a very reasonable figure in the north west and sold to the individual at a correspondingly low price. The County Agent can also tell you the best method to use to improve your land so as to get better crops and increased production, also help the communities to club together to purchase fertilizer and market their product. Many times a buyer can use a carload of stock, grain or feedstuff and will not purchase small quantities. By the farmers co-operating with the County Agent, this buyer can be supplied and the farmers able to dispose of his products at a good market price.

The farmer and cattle men are greatly pleased with the way Mr. Kirk has taken hold of the work and express confidence in his ability to give Mason county a valuable administration. We would urge all the farmers of Mason county to stop in and see Mr. Kirk at the Chamber of Commerce or call him on phone No. 52 and tell him you want to get acquainted and be of all the help you can in making Mason a more prosperous county in which to live.

PRESIDENT REED RESIGNS

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce was held Saturday afternoon, at which time the resignation of President Stanley Reed was presented. It was with much regret that the officers and directors accepted his resignation. They expressed their gratification in the fact that he had offered his services to our country and wished him good health and success in all his endeavors. Mr. Reed has given the organization a fine administration, having inaugurated and been a part in many of the constructive endeavors for the betterment of the city and county and will be much missed by all of the citizens. For the present, no successor was chosen to succeed Mr. Reed as the election of officers and directors for the year 1919 will take place the first Tuesday evening in December and they take their seats immediately. Mr. Frank Hendrickson, the Vice President will assume charge of the organization until the election of the new Board of Directors.

MEETING OF SYNOD AT LEXINGTON

Ministries and elders of the Presbyterian churches in Lexington and the vicinity have extended an invitation to the Synod of Kentucky to hold its annual meeting this fall in the First Presbyterian church of that city. This meeting was to have been held in Nicholasville beginning on October 10, but was postponed on account of the influenza epidemic. Nicholasville has asked that the meeting in 1919 be held there, as the postponed meeting will not be so largely attended. The date for the meeting will be set by the moderator, the Rev. W. Y. Davis, of Louisville.

AN EXPENSIVE HOT BOX

Yesterday morning a car in an east-bound freight train on the C. & O. developed a hotbox while the train was on the road between here and Pence Station, east of here, and the blaze from the hot journal set fire to the car, which was set off on the siding at Pence, where it soon was destroyed with its contents, which consisted of a heavy load of harness leather. The loss is considerable.

EVERY ONE SEEMED IN A BIG HURRY

Yesterday certainly was hurry-up day. Almost every automobile that passed through the east end was going like the destiny of the world depended upon its getting somewhere. Most of them were from the country, it seemed, as no one knew the occupants, and it was almost next to impossible to get their numbers. But they had "bedder loog a leedle oud."

PHOENIX HOTEL AT LEXINGTON PENALIZED

Louisville, November 11—The Phoenix Hotel, of Lexington, Ky., a landmark in the Bluegrass section and one of the most popular hosteleries in the South, has been heavily penalized by the Food Administration for violation of the rules governing conservation of wheat flour and sugar. Federal Food Administrator Fred M. Sackett made announcement of the decisions today after receiving notice that the penalties had been approved by the Enforcement Division, Washington.

Upon investigation by the Bakery Division it was found that the Phoenix Hotel had not been living up to the rules of the Food Administration. Investigation of the hotel's sugar records by James Combs, Lexington City Food Administrator, disclosed the fact that the hotel had failed to keep its sugar records properly and had mixed the sugar allowed for specific purposes to its different departments, including the hotel proper, the bakery and the bar.

In lieu of the penalties prescribed by the Enforcement Division, which included discontinuance of the bakery during the remainder of the war and a reduction in the quantity of sugar allowed to the hotel, the Phoenix Hotel made a voluntary offer of compromise. The terms of this offer included suspension of the bakery license for thirty days, involving closing of the bakery for that period, and a contribution to the Red Cross of $1,000 for failure to live up to the bakery rules; and a contribution to the Red Cross of $200 for failure to keep proper sugar records and observe the requirements governing the use of sugar.

This offer was accepted by the Enforcement Division and the penalties became effective today.

BAPTIST MEETING POSTPONED

The meeting of the Kentucky Baptist General Association, which was to have been held this week in Campbellsville, Ky., has been postponed because of conditions brought about by the influenza epidemic. The meeting will be held at the appointed place December 2 to 5, with Baptist ministers and laymen from all parts of the State in attendance.

LOOKING FORWARD TO BIG THINGS

An executive meeting of the officers of the Maysville District Short Horn Breeders' Association was held in the office of the Chamber of Commerce Saturday morning, at which time the business of the Short Short Sale was settled.

While the sale was not as successful as they would have desired and expected it would be, they feel gratified over the results after taking into consideration the fact that health and other conditions served to lessen the attendance of some of the prospective buyers. They also recognize the fact that the initial efforts of such a move are seldom crowned with success, but they can find satisfaction in the fact that they are rendering a service to this district that cannot be counted in dollars and cents and the results will be enjoyed in a few years, when this district will be one of the best and biggest high grade cattle markets of the United States.
